

Dear FSEM students,

Are you a liberal arts major and the first in your family to go to college? If so, the College of Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences (CAHSS) wants to support you in your college career. This year we are starting a program that will connect you with a fellow first-gen liberal arts major and a first-gen faculty or staff member from the College to provide you with support, advice, and someone to talk to about your unique experiences in the college environment—someone who understands first-hand what you are experiencing as the first in your family to attend college.

If this type of support sounds like something you'd be interested in receiving, please email Elizabeth.Escobedo@du.edu and tell us a bit more about yourself:

- What is your major?
- What qualities would you like to see in a peer mentor and/or a faculty/staff mentor (e.g., are you looking for someone in your own major/minor? Someone who is also first-gen? Someone who shares your academic or extracurricular interests)?
- What would you hope to get out of the program?
- Feel free to be informal and to be as detailed or general as you like.

If you have any questions about the program, please email Elizabeth.Escobedo@du.edu or Ingrid.Tague@du.edu.

We look forward to hearing from you, and to supporting you on your college journey!

Take care,
Liz Escobedo
